

TRY TO STEAL BRIDE; TWO NEGROES KILLED

GO AFTER GIRL AND ARE MR STRIPLING MET BY BULLETS FROM FATHER'S GUN

Last night on Dr. Bardsley's place near Kinsley, Buster Faulk and his nephew, Son Faulk, were instantly killed by John Ward, all negroes.

The two Faulk negroes went to Ward's house to steal his daughter for Son's bride, but upon going in the gate the father of the girl stepped out, and with a pistol shot the would-be groomsmen five times and his companion twice.

The Faulk negroes planned to steal Ward's girl, but the old man had been notified of their plot and was waiting for them when they arrived. It is rumored that both of the negroes had guns, but the old man was too quick for them, emptying seven shots into their bodies and killing them outright. Ward went to Headland and gave himself up to the officials of Henry county.

The bodies of the two negroes lay in Ward's yard until late today, when relatives residing in the community went after them.

They have been working on the place of Mr. Jasper E. Barnes, about three miles from Dothan, for about three years.

Charles Stripling, a young man who has been seriously ill at the home of E. S. Smith in Law, J. B. Saxon, resigned his position as school principal about 4 o'clock after being in comatose state for nearly three weeks.

Mr. Stripling is able to sit up today, and it is thought he will be able to be up tomorrow.

It is the opinion of the physicians that a spell of malaria recently suffered by the patient, was the cause of the stroke.

Mrs. M. T. Jones returned yesterday from Slocumb, where she has been on a visit to relatives and friends.

Rev. Henry Pelham, of Shorterville, passed through the city today en route to Madrid.

Dr. C. S. Petry, a well known young dentist, of Columbia, was a visitor to the city yesterday.

I. Boxhorn, a well known traveling man, of Montgomery, was in the city Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. R. T. Ghent has returned from Birmingham, where she has been attending the State Federation of Woman's Clubs. While there she was extended an invitation to address the Southern Educational Association at its December meeting in Chattanooga on the subject of "The Downing Industrial School, What It Is Doing and What It Wants to Do in Southern Education."

Miss Lucile McClure has returned to her home in Columbia. She was accompanied by Mrs. S. O. Gault, who went over there to attend the McNair-Hammond wedding Saturday.

Dr. A. S. Hill passed through the city yesterday en route to his home in Panama City, from Columbus, where he has been for several days attending the bedside of his sister, who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Mabry, who for many years were residents of Dothan, but who have been away for several years, are back in Dothan to stay. They have many friends here who are glad to welcome them back.

P. L. Clendinen left Sunday for Troy, where he will be joined by Mr. E. S. Moore of that city, who will accompany him to Cincinnati, where they will look after the interests of the Moore Oil Company in this section.

COUNT LEO TOLSTOI QUIETLY DEPARTS LAST

Astapora, Nov. 30.—Count Leo Tolstoy died at 10 o'clock this morning. Countess Tolstoy was denied to the room for her husband's dissolution. The husband failed to receive the Countess's mandate of the funeral. The Countess and her family were at the bedside. The Countess passed peacefully. Countess Tolstoy sat beside the body for hours, often kissing the face. "The light of the world is out," she said repeatedly.

Tolstoy left a written wish that he be buried without pomp, wreaths or rites under "Poverty Oak," on a hillside at Yashaya Poliana, where he played as a child, and where the peasants are accustomed to congregate. The funeral will be held on Tuesday, and the police have been mobilized to prevent public demonstration.

The crowd that gathered around the hut where Count Leo Tolstoy lay dying in the early Sunday morning hours, awaited breathlessly a verdict of two of the leading heart specialists of Moscow, who had been hurriedly called onto consultation.

The examination was brief, lasting less than half an hour. Tolstoy failed to recognize either of the physicians. His heart succumbed shortly after he had issued from under the covers. Dell & Smith 21-23

DRIVEN FROM CIVILIZATION

"When you see a man who has abandoned the busy haunts," said the wild man of the woods to the hunter who had paused for a drink of water "you may take it for granted that he has been driven into the solitudes by some woman. I suppose all men live in a cave because his wife persisted in cleaning house when the house didn't need cleaning. I am far from being a woman hater. I always have contended that woman is an excellent proposition but there is no little doubt that married women have little sense. With the best intentions to the world, they make life a burden to their husbands, causing them to flee to the crags and peaks of the mountains or the labyrinthine recesses of the forest for that place which is denied them at home."

"My wife was one of the most admirable women I ever saw and a catalogue of her virtues and accomplishments would look like an atlas of the world, but she had a weakness for making apple butter, and so our home was wrecked. If there's anything in this world I despise, it's apple butter. As a natural consequence I never saw the last of apple butter while I lived at home."

"That's always the way in the busy haunts. The things you hate most are showered upon you. If you hate politics everybody will buttonhole you and push you up against a fence and talk politics until you swoon. If you have a constitutional grouch against tin sned music, everybody in the neighborhood will buy a second hand phonograph and keep it going day and night. I can't tell you how passionately I hated apple butter. When I was a boy my mother was always dopping me with calomel and senna and other drugs that tasted like a sentence of death, and she put them in apple butter to disguise the flavor."

This being the case my wife, of course developed a mania for making apple butter, and the stuff was on the table at every meal. If you are a married man you know how less it is to try to make a woman understand such a prejudice as I had against that particular compound. I tried to explain it to my wife. I told her that every time I saw or tasted apple butter it reminded me of the sad old days my mother told me by the nose and bent me backward over the table and made me swallow a tablespoonful of the horrible stuff, doped with calomel or calomel or something else with an equally noxious taste. She listened to all I had to say and then look at me in a compassionate way and say: "But my boy, there is no calomel or senna in this apple butter. Why do you see a man do under such conditions?"

I once had a very old and a perfect gentleman, a credit to his sex, who could hear the night of far son. In his younger days he went to the cupboard in the dark of night to eat a link of cold sausage in order to keep cold and nod together and some time we got hold of a piece of turkey and began eating it and he was frothing at the mouth for three days afterward so that he was arrested on a charge of having hydrophobia. This unfortunate occurrence made such a deep impression upon his susceptible highly strung mind that he was

The First Thing You Do

Should be to have your furnish cleaned now for Winter's use, or have your houses fitted up with steam or hot water heating apparatus. Don't wait till cold weather to do this, but have it done before your Fall housecleaning begins. We are ready and waiting for all of this kind of work now that is necessary, and no one in Dothan can do it better than we can.

port—that the sight or smell of tar soap almost threw him into convulsions. He married a beautiful and enchanting young woman who was all that a wife should be except that she insisted upon having tar soap in the kitchen, in the bathroom, wherever there was a wash basin or hydrant. She was of the opinion that a woman couldn't keep house without plenty of tar soap, and she was constitutionally unable to understand that her husband's aversion to it was more than a whim.

"As a result she is living alone, a stricken and heartbroken woman bemoaning her folly when it is too late. Her husband couldn't live in an atmosphere of tar soap and he is living to this day in a hole in the ground formerly occupied by a family of civets, and on tempestuous nights the wind may be heard whistling through his whiskers like a soul in pain."

It was because of the mania of apple butter that I left my once happy home and fled to the sylvan solitude. Various committees have called upon me and asked me to return to my vine covered cottage and live happily ever after with the bride of my youth, but when I asked the spokesmen of these committees whether my wife had cut loose from the apple butter habit, they are obliged to confess that she is still a victim of her old infatuation."

I didn't lose anything on the night except my reputation as a prophet.

Art it funny how everybody wants to be around at the first hour?

Seems to me the trouble with most people who want to make money is that they want to make too much at one time.

All the summer I had aspirations to be a watchman in a cold storage plant but this winter I found I was a bit of a dreamer.

CONVERSATION

Conversation may be divided into chats, arguments, puffs and palaver with gossips and quarrels as side issues.

The idea that when people meet it is necessary for them to talk has grown out of helplessness. If distrust. Not over five out of a million people say anything when they converse.

Conversations are fortunately forgotten as soon as they are over, otherwise people would be so mortified over their manner remarks that they would seek new friends every day fearing to meet old ones.

The art of conversation is a lost one and the art of keeping still demands cultivation. The trouble is that were we to develop the art of keeping still we should immediately begin to talk about it.

People spend thousands of dollars in education in books, travel in theatre tickets in order to carry on a conversation.

As a consequence the whole world is about to be a talk shop.

INVESTMENTS

We want our customers to know that our advice regarding prospective purchases of property is given to them fully, and with truth. We offer our opinions based on long experience of fair and truthful dealings. It is our pride that enquiries are given the full benefit of what we think of property, regardless of whether such opinion directs a sale or prevents it. We challenge a single showing of money lost through any investment recommended by us. On the contrary we can point to dozens of investments made the present year which have been 11 per cent in a year. We have other things in mind beside a nominal commission which we receive through sale of property. We are interested in our customers. DOTHAN as a strong business center and for many years surrounded by plenty with employment for all. It is our purpose to use our best efforts to keep all these things going hand in hand.

During this year only a few hundred new settlers have moved in around Dothan. Those with whom we come in contact seem to be good farmers. What they produce will be marketed in Dothan, the money they make will be spent in Dothan. During the year, people have come to Dothan. There are no vacant houses here. Business is good—extremely good and feeling better. The area is now ripe for a rapid enhancement in values. The demand is growing for everything in real estate. We have a number of selected properties on which we will stake our business reputation that money can be made. Come up and let's talk it over. Here are a few:

Three large lots on prominent street, worth $3,250 today, price $2,650.

Four nice lots, east front, worth $3,000, but the price is $2,100.

Four lots, little better, worth $4,000, price this week, $2,400.

One of the nicest residence lots on the market, east front $1,400. Can build house on this costing $2,000 to $2,500 on time, if lot is paid for. This is your opportunity.

We have a home on North Street for a price $1,000 under the market.

We have two homes close in. Both are ready to move.

We have a corner dwelling, fixed up nicely, with all improvements, and the price is only $3,350, terms—and a location that is not anybody.

We have the best investment in any business property in town.

If you really want to make some money we can show you where. It's vacant business property on which we have just secured a price.

We have a farm, 2 1/2 miles out on Brannon's Stand road—everybody knows the character of this land. If you want to make $500 quick on a $2,000 investment buy it now at $10 an acre.

A nice dwelling on South Street $2,100 and $2,900 on North Street.

We have a lot on North Street for $5,000. It's cheap.

We have a lot on North Street for $5,000. It's cheap.

DEFENDANT WINS IN MOCK TRIAL

Quite a lot of interest was taken in the mock trial of this morning at the Dothan High School when C. S. Hallon was charged with holding three cases from Louis Alroyvitz, both of this city.

Both the prosecution and the defense were represented by the Dothan High School and a number of visitors were present to hear the argument on the two sides.

Myer Blumberg represented the defendant while John Winks Hallon was the counsel for the state.

Five witnesses were given each of the sides and the usual jury of twelve was selected from members of the Dothan society. Glenn Murrell was judge.

The attorneys for both sides made strong arguments and good addresses, and the wise jurors decided it best to exonerate the evidently innocent defendant.

The attorney for the defendant stated in an interview today that had the jurors returned a verdict of guilty, that the case would have been appealed, and a plea of temporary insanity taken.

J. P. Hall, of Pratt City, is in Dothan visiting relatives.

C. S. Mayes, of Columbia, is in Dothan today.

PAVEMENT PHILOSOPHY

A big nose looks all right in its place.

The word "tried" is much used and abused.

A little authority is too much for some people.

Sometimes when a man fails, he has succeeded.

"Any port in a story," also anyone's umbrella.

A bad liver is sometimes the result of a good one.

The bigger the noise the bigger the silence that follows.

If you are a self-made man try to be a self-contented one also.

Trying to paint the town red shows a certain amount of greenness.

A watched pot may not boil, but it is not the same with people usually.

Some men are willing the other fellow shall be the hero and get the applause.

Some people hold their noses so high till they'd walk right over a fat pocketbook.

If you had the other fellow's job, perhaps you'd make worse fuss than he does over it.

When you laugh at an old joke are you complimenting the man or merely encouraging him to sin.

One way you can notice that the world is growing better, people don't have as many boils as they used to.

JUST THOUGHTS

Don't hurt your enemies; neglect them.

A pretty face is pretty hard to keep pretty.

Constant reeping wears away the brightest joke.

Puppy love is simply learning old tricks over again.

Turning the other cheek is mighty fine in some cases.

Somehow men don't like manish women, or womenish men.

Watch the man higher up, whether he's a cashier or aviator.

The world feels queer toward a person who has never been kissed.

If you can take it or let it alone, then why in the world don't you?

Those plates are fine things in some people's mouths; they prevent much talking.

Persons who don't know their own minds, are apt to think they know everybody else's.

The Banquet to Henry Clay in New Orleans in 1842 Cost $100 per Plate

Never before had the historic old St. Louis Hotel, near the famous French Market Place, contained such an assemblage of wealthy women and famous men. Here it was that Henry Clay made his only speech in Louisiana and while making a glowing tribute to the beauty of Southern women. Before and after this banquet the guests sipped the famous French Market Coffee, as was the custom in those days. That this famous beverage could be had only at the French Market. Now you may have it at your own table, for the old French Market blend is perpetuated by

Lawyer—Judging from your replies, my friend, you don't seem to have any opinions on any subject."

Possible Juror—No, sir; I have not had an opinion of my own for several years.

Lawyer—Indeed, how many years?

Possible Juror—Let me see—I was married in 1895—that's fifteen years.

Working Backward

"Political campaign calculations," remarked the Prof. Tallbrow, "are a distinct branch of mathematics."

"How so?" We asked.
"You begin with the answer, then work backward for the purpose of evolving a problem to demonstrate it," explained the professor.

How She Scored

Mrs. Urban—"I threw a stone at an old hen this morning, and I hit her, too."

Urban—"With the stone?"
Mrs. Urban—"N-no, but the stone jarred an apple off the limb of a tree, and the apple fell on the hen."

Just a Few Notes

"You are not in it with me," sneered the nightingale. "Why, you can't touch a high note at all."
"True," rejoined the ostrich, "but my feathers can reach more $10 notes in a day than you could in a thousand years."

Her Favorite

"Who is your favorite author?" asked the young man.
"Dickens," replied Miss Cautique. "His works abound with odd and villainous characters to whom it is a pleasure to compare people I dislike."

Didn't Care for It

"Mr. Ruxby," said the hostess, "can't you please ask Miss Sereecher to sing for us? You know, she'll never do anything I ask her."
"Oh, in that case," rejoined Ruxby, "I would rather have you ask her."

Youth's Privilege

Friend—You took my son into your office three months ago to learn the business. How is he getting along?
Broker—Oh, swimmingly. He's teaching me now.

Unlucky Luck

Blox—How did your friend Omens happen to get run over by an automobile?
Knox—Why, he was stooping to pick up a horseshoe.
